

How to build your first AI Skill

Write your business down once

FIRST, THE NAME @shazimbuidls

Same idea, three names

saved instructions for one job

Google and Anthropic call them Skills. In ChatGPT it's project instructions.

Project instructions

Step 1

@shazimbuides

Pick one task

the task you explain over and over

A refund reply, a proposal, a product description. One task per Skill.

refund-replies · your skill

task

good rules

examples

never

test

name: refund-replies

description: use when a customer asks for a refund

Step 2

@shazimbuid

Define good

describe what good looks like

Two or three sentences. If you can't describe it, the AI can't hit it.

What good looks like

A short, calm reply. Yes or no in the first line, one sentence on why, then the exact next step.

test

Rules

- warm and plain, no corporate filler
- under 120 words
- always include the order number and timeline

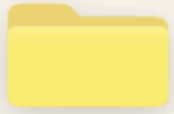

Step 3

@shazimbuid

Set the rules

list your rules

Tone, length, and what it must always include.

Step 4

@shazimbuid

Show examples

paste three real examples

Ones you were happy with. Examples teach your tone faster than rules.

Step 5

@shazimbuidls

Draw the lines

list what it must never do

Promise dates, quote prices, use words you'd never use.

Never

- promise a delivery date
- quote a price or a discount
- say "unfortunately" or "per our policy"

> /refund-replies order #4821 arrived late

✓ reply drafted in your voice

now compare it to what you'd have sent

Step 6

@shazimbuides

Save and test

save it, then test it on a real case

A Skill in Claude or Gemini. Project instructions in ChatGPT.

THE PAYOFF @shazimbuid

Write it once

an hour of writing

...and every AI tool you use starts sounding like your business.
